

Cindy Vero grew up in Northern New Jersey, minutes away from New York City and holds a degree in Broadcast Journalism from Rowan University.

Cindy got the radio ball rolling when she snagged an internship at WYNY working in promotions, running the board and doing everything else in between. She then branched off and became a DJ working weekends at WTBQ-AM in Florida, NY while freelancing at MTV News.

Throughout her career she worked at Shadow and Metro Traffic, Traffic.com, WDHA- FM, WVNJ-FM, WBRW-AM and WJHR-AM. Cindy continued to learn as much as she could about the world of Radio and became an incredible multi-tasker along the way honing her broadcasting skills.

While Cindy was working at one of the stations she was covering in NYC she was approached to join a morning show on KTU, where she was a staple for 13 years. She also hosted a show Sunday mornings at 6 called "KTU Cares" where she has the honor of interviewing people who are giving back to their communities.

Cindy continues to be one of the busiest women in radio, and has done countless appearances and charity events.

In her spare time, Cindy does voice-over work, rides motorcycles with her husband Tony and loves to spend time with her rescue dogs Ernie, Melba, Sadie and their cats, Charlie, Sundae and Henry. Cindy can also talk all day about shoes!
